COACHING PASSION

I am passionate about enabling others to reach their potential and seeing them prosper in the workplace. Building talent and skills to enable economic growth within our country, especially in relation to the healthcare sector where I believe that my experience, knowledge and skills are well suited to enabling the leaders of the future. I am passionate about enabling sustainable solutions that deliver access to healthcare for all living in South Africa.

WORK EXPERIENCE

I have 30 years experience in the Healthcare Industry. Over 15 years experience at an Executive level, managing people across diverse and complex operational areas as well as leading business design and strategic execution. I have had extensive experience in business transformation, considering both the digital opportunities and the need to prepare the people for change. I have been successful in building leaders in organisations I have worked in by leveraging my own strengths of communication, maximising others, building relationships and delivering solutions.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

60 hours to date after having qualified through a COMENSA and ICR credentialed and accredited coach training course. Over 20 years of coaching and mentoring senior managers prior to qualifying as a business coach - sponsoring strategic projects, including coaching team members; twice monthly GROW model coaching of senior management in the department and leading junior managers through change within the organisation.

TESTIMONIAL

The coaching has really opened my eyes to what I need to do to be more successful. I have learnt a lot about myself and how I need to adapt to the business environment

TESTIMONIAL

I can see why Andrew is a coach. He has a lot of business experience and insight that really made me think about how I solve problems in the work place

TESTIMONIAL

I literally had tears in my eyes when I realized that I am actually really good at what I do and that I am on the right path with my career. The light bulbs went on during our coaching sessions and I have clear actions to achieve my immediate goals.
