COACHING PASSION

"Taking a step everyday beyond the possible" – everyone has a history; everyone is in a place here and now; everyone is looking for the future to be better; and those who want to be in a better future either have a way to achieve it, or they don't irrespective of which, if you're going to achieve great results, you cannot do it alone. My passion stems from years of travel and living throughout Africa and the Middle East, working within multicultural teams, multinational companies and multi-industry environments. I have seen the impact an organization and its individuals can make that leads to improving themselves and, indirectly, others.

WORK EXPERIENCE

I have over 35 years of hands-on business experience in various industries – Mining, Oil & Gas, Hospitality, Consulting, Organizational Development and Coaching. I have worked at multiple levels, from Manager to Executive, Director, and Business Owner. Worked with and within various structures, including Joint Ventures, New Market Entry, New Country Development, Mergers, Compliance, Organization Change, Negotiations, and Mediation, Virtual and remote; lived and worked in multiple countries throughout Africa, the Middle East, and Europe.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

I started my coaching career parallel to my development while in corporate, using the skills and techniques in my various human resources roles in mining, oil and gas, facilities management, and hospitality throughout Africa and the Middle East. I elected to become a professional business coach and grow the coaching and leadership development business. I joined Leadership Management International and completed the Thinking Partners program, which saw me coaching leadership development delegates for various organizations and individual clients over the past few years. The focus increased through formal accreditation with SA Business Coaches, COMENSA, as an Accredited Coach, EMCC Snr Practitioner. I have served as the Vice-Chair, Chair of the Professional Conduct Committee, and Board Member. Clients range from Business Owners, Leadership Development Teams to physically challenged individuals and Executives. Finally, I coach financial acumen, allowing them to be part of the conversation.
